We have an advance copy of the Knicker Socker Magazine for September. The veteran of monthlies is always a welcome visitor. By accident Nos. 679 and 680 have not reached this office. The September number is as sparkling and excellent as usual. ---

Wz have just received advices from our correspondent J. T. P., of the 14th Regiment, dated at "Chest Mountain," 14th inst., which represents all things going on well .-An engagement is apprehended soon. The letter speaks of tmenty thousand Union troops being on the road from Clarksville to Beverly. This looks like the reinforcement of Gen. Rosencans had commenced. The letter will appear in our next issue.

Tur sensational items which abound, deelaring "Washington City to be in danger!" "Rebe's crossing the Potomac," &c., which appear from day to day, we are inclined wholly to discredit. If there had not been so much foolish concern about the safety of the Capital, there would have been more men in our army at Manassas and probably prevented the disgraceful defeat at Bull's Run.

We have had numerous conversations, of late, with many of the most influential and wealthy farmers of our own and surrounding counties, upon the vigorous prosecution of the war and necessary taxation which must result from it. A patriotic and generous feeling pervades this class of our citizens. Many have remarked that their whole estate -all their broad acres-will be cheerfully given if needed by the Government, for its preservation from the great rebellion.

This feeling is prevalent throughout our whole valley. It is remarked by several of our cotemporaries, and is seen in daily intercourse with the farming community. The Hoosier State, of Vermillion county, mentions several cases of declarations similar to those above alluded to. One of the persons named of fifty Infantry and a few of Capt. Bracker is JOSEPHUS COLLETT, Sr., well known to our community as one of the most intelligent and wealthy farmers of Vermillion, and one of the oldest residents of the Wabash valley. The disposition manifested by the heaviest tax-payers of our midst, is that of cheerful response to the calls of the Government. The people are right on all these matters, and will not hear the cries of political demagogues.

Capitaliste Programme.

THE late convention of Bankers and Capitalists, which assembled from the various large cities, to perfect negotiations to put the Goverament in funds for the prosecution of the war, had some interesting and rather signifieant proceedings. They provided $50,000, 000, and placed it in the hands of the proper Government authorities.

Among other proceedings, the following resolution was adopted and ordered to be certified to the President, viz :-

"Resolved, That this meeting, in assuming the grave responsibility of furnishing means to sustain the Government in this important crisis, beg leave respectfully to exits confident expectation that the Government will, without respect to party or personal con-siderations, so conduct its affairs in every department of administration, as to insure jeigor, integrity, economy and efficiency to the triumphant termination of the war."

The meaning of this action, on the part of eapitalists " assuming the grave responsibility of furnishing means to sustain the Government in this important crisis," has considera ble significance. It contains, in the use of the terms vigor, integrity, economy and offciency, a first rate programme for the prosecution of the war. It should be acted upon by the Administration in all respects-and doubtless will be. If carried out strictly and earnestly, it will insure a speedy and triumphant termination of the war.

Mr. Russell's Letter.

The letter of Mr. WM. H. RUSSELL-correspondent of the London Times-descrip tive of what he saw of the closing scene of the battle at Bull's Run, has been published in the leading papers of this country. It is calling out a good deal of comment from the American press, and provoking testy and illnatured criticism in some quarters. So far as the battle is concerned, he did not witness any portion of it, and did not reach any part of the battle field. The only view which he had of the battle was from the ridge near Centreville, and at a distance of some six miles over and through the adjacent forest. He could not have reached Centreville before about three o'clock on the day of battle; and west of that place, along the Warrenton road, encountered the stampede, at Cub run, far in the rear of our centre.

His description of the stampede-the conduct of the wagoners, artillerymen, soldiers, officers, &c., during the panic, though dashed with a slight vein of humor, and perhaps national prejudice, is very correct and true -The rout was most disgraceful, astounding and unwarranted. His letter is really but an account of this, and he professes to give only the scenes transpiring immediately about him. All the brilliant conduct of the Federal troops upon the battle field, the fierce engagements of the day, the toil, patience, bra- traitor in Shelbyville Sic semper secession. very and courageous deeds of either army Ind. Jour. were not witnessed by him. His account commences when the necessary retreat of the Vederal forces degenerated into a panic and diegraceful rout. The portraiture exhibited by him is mortifying to our national pride in are extreme. It is unfortunate too, that it goes to the English people-ignorant of the locality of the field and of the particulars of she preceding battle of six hours—as a statement of the unfortunate affair. Foreigners will be apt to consider the conduct of the panic stricken and disordered soldlers, in wild retreat, as an index of cowardice throughout the whole battle.

The letter was written at Washington, in the gloom and rain of the Monday succeeding the battle. At this time things looked very despending. In his next, Mr. Resexta will doubtless inform the Times that the enemy gained no positive advantage by the victory-that the nation has recovered from the shock-and is preparing to wipe out the disgrace of the defeat. He will also doubtless correct some misapprehensions under which he seems to have labored. His next letter will be looked for angiously on this side the Tur various reports which have been cir-Culated by telegraph, alleging that Gens. Mc-Cultock and Paice, of the rebel army, had been killed at the battle of Wilson's Creek turn out to be false and groundless. They re both seen and conversed with, by our argeons, in charge of wounded Federal roops, days after the engagement. They are alive-issuing proclamations, and work ing hard in the cause of the Confederates.

The Fourteenth Indiana Regiment. CHEAT MOUNTAIN, Randolph Co., Va.

Morrous Expuns.-I snatch a few moneats this evening to inform you that the Fourteenth is still in statu quo, though we are so isolated, here on this Mountain, from the line world that any items of news from us, other than those concerning the Army of Ocupation, are out of the question, and indeed of late we find them exceedingly scarce from this source—the rebels being afraid to attack us, and we not fully prepared, as yet, to chase them farther out towards the Atlantic.

We are so greatly elevated here that the louds in their passage, seem to come in contact with our "Mountain home," and jostle their contents upon us-heavy rains falling every day, thus rendering the boys' quarters constantly wet and uncomfortable, and also our "streets" exceedingly mudy and unplea ant. In view of these and a few other thing very few of us would object to the reception of marching orders at any time. Anythin almost, even in the best of situations, b mactivity for the soldiery.

One thing contributing largely to the re tiveness of our soldiers is their almost to destitution of all reading matter, and espe ally of that stamp which imparts sound ! struction to the mind and improves the mo als. Occasionally I go out to distribut amou them a few leaves of old papers and pamy lets, and they come running to me from parts of the camp, as the chickens do mother when she goes out with her dough. (Will the reader stick a pin here and send us his surplus papers, tracts, etc? Addre Chaplain 14th Regiment, Indiana Voluntee Western Virginia.)

On last Thursday, the 8th inst., Lieutens Taylor, of Loogootee, led a scouting par Cavalry, some twelve miles along the Pa The Cavairy moved some miles in advar of the Infantry and were fired upon from ambush by fifteen or twenty of those cowardly Mountaineers. Daniel Webster Kye, of Warsaw, was quite severely wounded in the sukle, and John R. Worth, of Covington, received a ball in his left lung. Although we all thought him mortally wounded, he seems to be quite comfortable, and bids fair to re-

On Friday the 9th inst., another and larger party advanced far beyond that point, for orage and in search of those Mountain assassins. After collecting together a number of head of cattle-which we of course propose paying for when the owners can be found-they detailed some ten footmen and a few Cavalry to drive them into camp, sending along with them also two prisoners whom they had taken. When within about eight miles of the camp, the Cavalry and one footman. Wm. Wilkinson, of Vincennes, being s few rods in the advance, were also fired upon by an ambuscade of some twelve or fifteen of the Virginia Militia, as these scoundrels call themselves. Wilkinson was shot through the hip and bowels, and died the same night. Wm. Hawthorn, of Indianapolis, was shot through the left labe of the lungs, and, contrary to the fears of all, has lived till the present time, but must die very soon. Jno. W. Chayne, also of Indianapolis, was shot in the thigh, breaking it. To the everlasting confusion and dishonor of these savage-like rebels be it said, that while an ambulance was being brought, and these poor soldiers lying there bleading and almost dy ing, they were fired upon a second time, Chayne receiving an additional ball through his left arm. Every possible means is employed and attention given by our attentive and skillful surgeons-Drs. McPheeters and McCune-to insure the recovery of our sick

-which are but few and wounded. These miserable misled tools of leading rebels, hang along the Pass and attack only Cavalry, who cannot pursue them into the Mountains, or greatly inferior squads of Infantry, It can be stopped only by cleaning out Colonel Johnson, on the summit of the Alleghanies, under whose direction the Lact. This I think will be done ere long.

"SECESH" AT SHELBYVILLE -We are informed by a citizen of Shelbyville that ecession sympath zers in that place meet w.th rather active treatment, and that the remedy in one case, at least, offec el a speedy and proclivisies were all Southern, and his sympathies not at all with the No. thern volunteers. one day this week entered a shaving saloon where Capt. McKen re was having the art tonsorial performed at the time. The intruder, on entering, commenced a tirade of abuse against the Northern a my, ending by wishing that every d-d vo unteer would get killed. The Castain told him to dry up, as he did not like to hear such language, whereupon "Secesh" grew more violent, and used language which procured for him from the Captain a sound drubbing. He left the saloan minus a few front teeth, but was compens tod for the loss by the superb ornamentation that his eyes received in the conflict—being colors jufficiously variegated, and embracing nearly all the hues of the rainbow. He then went to a lawyer's office to seek legal redress, but was told there was no law to protect a

Another Regiment to be Raised-Co'.

B. F. Scribner, Commander. Our fellow citizen, Col. B. F. Scribner, has received authority from the Secretary of War, through Gov. Morton, to raise an independent regiment in this portion of the State. We understand that Col. Scribber has already had the offer of several companies, and the probability is that his re-tinent will be speedily raised. Col. Scribner is well known to our citizens. He served in the Mexican war as an officer of that crack company, the "Spencer Greys," and was repeatedly com-mended by Gen. Lane for his gallantry. Upon the passage of the militia law by the Leg-islature, Mr. Scribner was appointed Colonel of the 7th regiment, Indiana Legion. Col. Scribper is one of our best drilled military men, is reliable in all his transactions, and ose who serve under him may rest assured that they will have a brave and gallant com-

We presume the regiment will be ordered to this city until completed and ready for service, as it will be the most convenient point to gather the regiment together. Dis trict being the first.

In the woods near the camp ground day before yesterday, a fellow who had mistaken the company he was in, expressed his sympathy with secession in a manner that was not t all complimentary to the North, when a gentleman who happened to be within hearng, and who had lost a brother in one of the Virginia battles, sprang to his feet and applied a cane to the shoulders of "secesh" with such vigor that he was glad enough to desist and say no more about it .- nIdianapolis Journal.

In the battle near Springfield, one of the most interesting features is said to have been the engagement between the Kansas Regiment and a Regiment of Mississipplans. The struggle was desperate, and the loss heavy on both sides; but of the Mississippians not over forty answered to the roll call after that
